TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 11, 1866.

THE LET ALONE POLICY.

Mormonism is too monstrous a subject to jest about—too bitter a reality to be put aside by a smile that mocks at its absurdity. It is a growing evil, one that should be deemed of sufficient importance to call forth the earnest opposition of every human soul that holds itself responsible in the sight of God for a portion of this world's work.

It is easy to say, "let it pass," for those who have never felt the pressure of its iron heel, and who measure the world's woes by the extent of their own little miseries, it is very easy to say, "Let it alone—it will die."

It will die, slavery died too, but not until the shadow of Death's wring had swept from ocean to ocean—not until the good, the brave, and the beautiful were sent Home by its flying throes and ten thousand sodden sepulchres leaned darkly over American hearthstones.

It is, of course, much easier to ignore than face the wrong that is protected by power, and those who most eloquently support the policy of letting Mormonism alone are usually so amply endowed with the discretion part of valor that they would not dare to touch it though it trod their souls.

No true man is capable of disdaining any wrong that perils the peace of another, and that which crushes a child's finger is as certainly a wrong as that which makes a strong heart ache to its core.

When a wholly selfish and utterly unscrupulous man establishes an absolute monarchy under our very banner folds, and gathers to himself an army of fanatical followers, made up of the dust sweepings of all Europe, it is time to think; and when this ecclesiastical king makes it part of his religion—and of course that of his human machinery—to defy the laws of the land and insult its most sacred institutions, it is time to speak, if ever.

Let those who love Mormonism cling to it; those whom it serves, patronize it; those who dare not touch it, adopt the "let alone" policy. Yet manhood is not wholly extinct nor loyalty altogether a memory of the past. Even on the borders of the Dead Sea are some living remains, and Truth and Right have earnest champions who dare to own their colors, and having nailed their flag to the mast mean to fight under its starry folds until this "twin relic" is swept back into that oblivion from whence it was brought forth to serve the degraded passions and mercenary instincts of selfish leaders—self-styled Prophets! Seers!! and Revelators!!!

Matters at Salt Lake.

[Correspondence of the Austin Reveille.]

In Salt Lake City the political aspect of affairs is undergoing a radical change. Heretofore, Brigham Young, the ruler of the polygamists, issued his fiat, proclaimed his candidates, and the election was a mere matter of form. Nearly all his adherents are foreigners, but they were allowed to vote. Now, however, the Gentiles are increasing, and there are more than 3,000 citizens in Salt Lake City organized to oppose the Mormons politically and otherwise. The base and ignominious assassination of S. N. Brassfield, late of Austin, increased their zeal, and they are determined to maintain this organization until they are the dominant power. Jury trials, where the question is antagonistic to Mormon interests, are a farce.—The men are summoned by Mormon officials, and lately, on a question of police regulations relative to the sale of liquor, I was told the challenges were numerous, on the ground that each person was sworn on a secret Mormon police, a system of espionage from which no Gentile is free, and which is a stepping stone to the consignment of the refractory to the tender mercies of the destroying angels.

* * * * * * * *

I was told many of the Mormons are proving backsliders, some opposing polygamy as their daughters become marriageable; others objecting and refusing to pay the tithings, for the reason that there is no account given of the thousands of dollars which have been received. The Church Treasury is under the sole control of the favored few, and the poor tithing payers are beginning to think they have paid enough.

Many believe that with the death of Brigham Young Mormonism will be exploded, that there is no other person capable of holding them together, worthy or able to be a leader in this great delusion. If so, his death would be devoutly wished for by many, but in my opinion, the majesty of the law should not be violated and its violation depend solely on the life of one man, who sets the law at defiance. Enforce the law or abolish the statute.

If it were publicly known that a half dozen women were captured by an Indian tribe and held in bondage, the whole civilized world would contribute for their rescue, and the power of the Government would be enforced for their liberation. But here are hundreds and thousands of women deceived into an infamous captivity, held as slaves by the most fanatical prejudices, and nothing is done to alleviate their sufferings or to rescue them from an earthly death. Women kept and treated as breeding animals, reviled and insulted at their public assemblages, threatened with death on earth and everlasting misery hereafter if they endeavor to escape—they are left in this desolate condition without an arm being extended for their relief. Occasionally one more bold than the rest flies from this hell on earth, this vale of iniquity, and tells of the great misery there. Let me except the noble efforts of the UNION VEDETTE, which has bearded the lion in his den, and has done some good work there.—God speed it in its noble mission! I trust the day is not far distant when Gentile rule will banish the Mormon dynasty from the high places in Utah.

Then the people, having the veil of infamy pulled from their eyes, with their industry, economy and ability, will make that valley the most desirable of residences on the continent, and the people worthy of all respect. U. J. L.

[FOR THE VEDETTE.]

A SUMMER SONG.

BY MISS S. E. CARMICHAEL.

I.

Richly trails day's radiant banner o'er the emerald vested mold, Lighter, brighter, more transparent than a web of tissue gold; Yet no mortal grasp can tear it, and no earthly touch can stain; Trampled by the world—polluted, lifted pure to heaven again, Who can waste or hoard a portion, who hath might to steal a shred,
Of the living gold that pulses under foot and overhead?
Yet the world is free to own it, free to see it, free to touch;
None need ever have too little, none can ever have too much.

II.

O, the sunlight and the blossoms! bless the blossoms, they are here, Leaping forth like bright impulses from the young heart of the year.
They have many wise discourses, gentle missionary flowers, More of love their breath enforces than the speech of sterner powers.
Tho' they bow their bright heads meekly and their lips are scarcely stirred,
Yet they do not argue weakly that enchant without a word.

III.

Words are strongest in expression when their text-book is the heart,
When they reach without digression soonest that for which they start.
Yet our statesmen deem it treason to betray just what they mean;
And our poets hide their reason till it is not often seen;
Our philosophers are careful that their morals shall not show;
And our preachers grandly tell us every thing but what they know.

IV.

Phrases, phrases, always phrases; fie,
these words are worn thread-bare,
Are they worth, in blame or praises, any earnest being's care?
People try to fool each other, and are self-fooled all the time, Judging by the thought they smother, all emotion must be crime.
Hearts may wrap their cold clay vesture closely round them all the while,
But who heeds the poor lip gesture, that is nothing like a smile?
I have heard blank language pealing in my ears for many a day,
And I never measure feeling by the part that words betray.
Every uttered thought is spoken, by a sigh that clips its wings, Every heart-beat breathed is broken, by the breath to which it clings.

V.

Maskers! who that is self-trusted cannot win another's trust?
Ah these masks are well adjusted, rightly spoken, "dust to dust!"
Dust to dust, and yet the heaving of each bosom spurns the thrall, Every soul, in silence grieving, mourns
the common lot of all,
And sometimes a child's soft fingers, or a woman's startled eyes, Prove to us the truth that lingers under being's vest of lies.
Yes, we love and trust each other to the limit that we may,
Brother understandeth brother, in despite of what they say.

VI.

Wherefore wrongly aim endeavor? Are the paths of falsehood sweet, That we trample them forever with our bare and bleeding feet?
Who is fooled by this base scheming as the schemer's self is fooled
Who is wronged by worldly schooling like the worldly being schooled?
Ah, this poor greed of position, is it worthy?—tell me why?
Is an eagle not an eagle tho' it nestle
low or high,
Is an insect not an insect tho' it touch
the earth or sky?

VII.

Live! and like the blossoms truly, like the sunlight free and pure, Live an earnest, true existence, wide,
unfathomable, and sure.
Live no mirror-like reflection, do not be a looking-glass, Holding up for God's inspection, human shadows as they pass, Live a heart's full width of being pure and solid to its core,
Live—live truly, freely, purely, deeply,
and forevermore!

AGGRAVATING IN THE EXTREME.—When shall we cease to chronicle Indian disturbances in Idaho Territory and on the roads leading thereto? During the last week the Indians have run off four head of Hill Beachey's horses from one of his mail stations on his route to Virginia City—while stocking his road. This is too bad; while hundreds of troops are scouring the mountains in localities where no Indians can be seen. Have we no remedy for this constant repetition of Indian raids? Day after day and week after week we are called on to notice them, and our appeals for better security are unheeded by a class of men who eke out an existence and a support at Government expense, who have chanced to get into the army from other causes than merit, who if they evinced the same inertness in professions in civil life would certainly starve to death. There are energetic officers serving in Idaho, and we are always glad to record their brave deeds done in our behalf, but there are others in whose hands lay our dearest interests who are unworthy the positions they occupy. We now appeal, in behalf of the public of Southern Idaho, to Gen. Steele to inaugurate a campaign against the Indians in localities where they can always be found. If he can do no more, we expect him to amply protect our traveled roads and mail routes, which will afford us at least the privilege of communicating with other portions of the commercial world, notwithstanding the unwillingness of these cursed, wretched red devils who mar our tranquility, retard our progress, and keep our citizens in a constant state of anxiety and alarm.—Avalanche, 1st.

JAMES Hamill, who has just been beaten in the international sculling match on the river Tyne in England, by Harry Kelly, offers to row against any Englishman who will come to America and conduct the trial on our smooth rivers according to American rules.

From Salt Lake.

[Correspondence to the Idaho World.]

Salt Lake City, Aug. 22, '66.

Editor World:—I arrived in this city, the great center of Utah, a few days since, and have met with many old friends and former residents of Boise county; among them I will mention Mr. J. M. Thormond, one of the pioneer attorneys of your city. He has been very successful and stands at the head of the Bar. I have also met our old friends W. McGrorty and W. W. Henry, formerly active business men of your place, and who have so far won the confidence of this community as to establish one of the largest business houses of this city. I can also add that friends in Idaho will receive a hearty welcome from this firm. The same can be said of our young friends George Wardman and John McClinchey, who, with Mr. W. C. Ervin, are doing a full share of the business of this city. Col. W. D. Bibb. Dr. Harris & Son, as well as many other Idahoan's, can be seen around.

So much has been said about this place that I shall not undertake to give a description of all I have seen. Its future is grand; its past has been a beautiful exemplification of what industry and perseverance can accomplish. Only yesterday an intelligent Mormon lady showed me lofty and beautiful trees planted by her hands over sixteen years ago.

I had the pleasure of meeting with Mr. I. M. Weston, the gentlemanly editor of the Vedette. I have found in him a person of rare attainments and one well qualified for the high position that he occupies.

I must not forget to mention General P. E. Connor, who is always glad to see the miners. The Government presented him with one of its most precious jewels when they breveted him a Major General. They also tendered him a commission as Colonel in the regular army, but his modesty declined to accept of these compliments—preferring to return to the bosom of his family and the private walks of life.

Much excitement exists in this city regarding the Pahranagat mines. From conversation with miners I am led to believe they will prove a great success. Immense wealth is doubtless entombed even in the mountains surrounding this city.

I have much local news to give you in my next. We have heard of the success of the Democracy in the late contest, and it has filled our hearts with gladness. More anon. C. D. S.

From California.

[From the Enterprise.]

San Francisco, Sept. 4.

Colonel George T. Knox, an old Californian and a military officer formerly on the staff of General Hooker in the Army of the Potomac, left for Mexico last week to take service under the Liberal Government of Mexico.

It is rumored that some sixty able-bodied men left here by some other mode of conveyance about the same time, and that they will meet Colonel Knox somewhere on the Mexican coast.

The trial of Charles P. Duane, which was set down for trial yesterday in the Twelfth District Court, was continued until Thursday next, at the request of the City Attorney.

The Executive Committee of the Union State Central Committee announce that Senators Nye and Stewart and Representative Ashley of Nevada, who have arrived from Washington, will address the citizens of San Francisco this evening on the state of the Union.

The four leading colts at the San Mateo races yesterday, were Lookout, Venture, Algerine and Eastonia. Their success entitles them to the privilege of trotting for the prices, amounting to $8,000, to-day.

Thomas Byrnes, the cold-blooded murderer of Charles T. Hill, and the perpetrator of numerous other crimes, suffered death by hanging, in the County Jail, yesterday.

HAVING been importuned to do so, the House Committee on Territories, before the adjournment of Congress made a special report on the condition of affairs in Utah. It amounted to nothing of practical moment. The Mormons had no show in the investigation—a jug-handle affair throughout. Young Joseph Smith and Connor were the principal witnesses. The Committee postponed the further consideration of the affair until next December. | Helena Gazette.

Our friends of the Gazette are very much mistaken. The Mormons had all the show. During the time that the investigation was being conducted they had one of their ablest advocates on the floor of Congress, who was assisted by a numerous and influential delegation well supplied with cash, upon the outside. Every witness they introduced was examined, and all favors shown them that were extended to Gentiles.—The Gentiles relied upon the justice of their cause, and did not raise a cent of money or have any representatives in Washington except one or two gentlemen from this city, who were there only a portion of the time, while engaged in other matters. Our polygamous friends made no defence, for the reason that they could not dispute the statements made by the Gentiles.

From Idaho.

Major Marshall and his command have been heard from in the Goose Creek Mountains, where they have killed some thirty Indians and captured some stock and provisions. The command has now gone in the direction of Stein's Mountain....Moore & Fogus, one of the heaviest mining firms of Owyhee, have failed for between two and three hundred thousand dollars. The Statesman claims that they failed well off....New diggings have been struck on Green River.

FROM NEVADA.—Thomas Fitch is a candidate for Congress, subject to the approval of the Union Convention....J. B. Rubsted, an old resident of Austin, while under a fit of insanity, committed suicide in that city on the 5th....General Rosecrans was in Virginia City on the 5th....The prospect is favorable for the renomination of Governor Blasdel.

From the Front.

The Union Pacific Railroad is reported as fourteen miles beyond Ft. Kearney....Instructions have been given Superintendent Murphy to prevent Indians under his charge from making any expeditions against the Indians on the Plains.

....Kansas will ship a million dollars worth of cattle to the East this season.

THE following Major Generals signed the call for a Soldiers' Convention to ratify the proceedings of the Administration Philadelphia Convention:

G. A. Custer,	A. McD. McCook,
L. H. Rousseau,	George Crook,
J. Meredith,	Thos. Ewing, Jr.,
John A. Dix,	Jas. B. Steadman,
Frank P. Blair,	H. W. Slocum,
Daniel Sickles,	Gordon Granger,
D. N. Couch,	John A. McClernand,
H. E. Davies, Jr.,	Orlando B. Wilcox,
W. W. Averill,	Alpheus S. Williams.

FROM THE NORTH.—Hon. E. D. Holbrook has received a letter from Major McDaniels, at Lewiston, from which we learn that Kirkpatrick has 78 majority in the three counties of Nez Perce, Shoshone and Idaho. In the Congressional election of 1864 these counties gave a majority of 138 against Holbrook.

The Democratic ticket in Nez Perce county is elected, with the exception of the candidate for County Clerk. Other counties not heard from entire.—Idaho Avalanche.

Harpers' Weekly is decorated with "likenesses of Brigham Young and the Twelve Apostles of the Mormon Church." But Brigham's picture, utterly unlike that chief of the Latter Day Saints, is a tolerable portrait of Victor Hugo, while the face labeled "Heber Kimball," conveys no hint of the charming features of that charming apostle, but bears unmistakable resemblance to the late John Tyler. Is it possible that The Weekly has been victimized?—N. Y. Tribune.

HELENA THEATER.—The Republican of the 1st inst. says an attempt was made on Thursday to play "Mazeppa," which resulted in a miserable failure. Nearly all the ladies left the audience before the conclusion of the play. Mrs. Waugh, as "Mazeppa," is like the Missourian's health, "jest tolerable." Ned Ward and Joe Mabbott take a joint benefit at the Helena Theater on Tuesday night.

CHARLES F. Browne (Artemus Ward) writes to a friend in New York that he has been most warmly received by the "eminents" of the art and literary world of London. He has been engaged as a regular contributor to the London Punch, and will commence a series of articles entitled "Artemus Ward in London." His reading will not commence before October.

GEORGE Francis Train challenges the whole Massachusetts Congressional delegation to meet him in "battle array" for a war of words—a free discussion of the political questions of the day. Train considers himself the Fenian Bismark.

GEORGE West, the popular Local of the Rocky Mountain News, has left that paper. In a card he intimates that he will soon be connected with some other Colorado journal.

GEORGE Melville Weston, editor of the Bangor Journal, has been nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Fourth, Maine, District.

A NEGRO recently murdered a white girl near Lansing, Michigan, and on the evening of the 25th ult. he was taken from the Mason Jail and hanged to a tree.

THE Washington Chronicle says that John Park, Mayor of Memphis, was arrested and taken before the Recorder some days ago and fined for drunkenness.

THE contract for grading the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad to Omaha has been let, and the U. P. R. R. Company talk of building a branch to Nebraska City.

GEN. George Hall has been appointed Postmaster of St. Joseph, Mo. There was need enough of a change in that office.

INDEPENDENCE HALL.—The Catholic services at Independence Hall last Sunday morning was well attended, and the congregation was treated to an able and scholastic discourse from Rev. Father Kelly. The Rev. Father announced that he had come to Salt Lake City for the purpose of permanently establishing a Catholic Church, and we learn that yesterday our business men subscribed a handsome sum to further the undertaking.

In the evening there was preaching by Messrs. Smith, Gillen and Anderson, of the True Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. The son of the Prophet and his colleagues handled the subject of Polygamy with ability and merited severity. They brought up the Bible, the Book of Mormons, and other authorities to show the fallacy of the doctrines taught and practiced by the usurper Brigham Young and his followers. The Hall was filled to excess and large crowds of eager listeners gathered around the doors and windows, while hundreds went away unable to get within hearing distance.
